Kairos Power is a nuclear energy engineering, design, and manufacturing company singularly focused on the commercialization of clean and innovative advanced reactor technology to enable the world’s transition to clean energy. Kairos Power recognizes that the strengths coming from many different perspectives, talents, cultural traditions, and backgrounds are integral to building a reliable, high-quality supply chain. We are committed to fostering a diverse vendor base that reflects the communities we serve.

Diverse businesses are those 51% owned and operated by stakeholders included in one or more of the following categories:

- Small Business
- Disadvantaged Business
- Economically Disadvantaged
- Veteran Owned
- Service-Disabled Veteran Owned
- 8(a) Certified
- HUBZone Certified
- Minority Owned
- Native American
- Woman Owned
- LGBTQ+ Owned
- Disabled Owned

Meet Kairos Power’s Supply Chain & Procurement team and learn how you can support our mission of enabling the world’s transition to clean energy, improving people’s quality of life, and protecting the environment in East Tennessee. For more information, please email: newsupplier@kairospower.com

Welcoming Native American Businesses

Kairos Power is honored to partner with Native-owned businesses. We respect each tribe as a sovereign nation with unique cultural, historical, social, and environmental priorities. We are committed to proactively engaging to understand Indigenous needs and humbly seek opportunities to collaborate.
