

Robert (Bob) Weiler
Board Member
Waste Management Symposia

Dedicated professional with 30 plus years of executive level business development and project management experience. Chief commercial officer and business executive with focus on acquisition planning, organization structure, partner alignment, strategic planning and financial management. Past leadership positions with major companies delivering engineering, construction and operation services for complex projects, often needing first of a kind and one of a kind solutions. Engineering credentials and successful performance in business capture and deployment of high hazard projects for government and industry.